This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

First species of Figures 1-3,

Second species of Figures 4-6 and

Third species of Figure 7

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: to the extent that it can be understood (see 35 USC 112, second paragraph, rejection below) claim 1 appears to be generic.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: As shown in the PCT/ISA/210 report by the EPO (dated September 17, 2003), claim 1 is anticipated by a total of four references. It therefore follows that the patentability of the device, if any, will necessarily lie in the disparate features of the dependent claims (i.e. in special technical features that are not common to all of the claims). Searching out such details in the limited time allotted for examination constitutes a serious burden.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The limitation "at the same height as one another, seen in the air flow direction" has been impossible to decipher. Taking Figures 1-2 by way of example, does applicant mean that heat exchangers 2 and 3 are the same "thickness" as measured horizontally? Does applicant mean that the combined vertical height of heat exchangers 2 and 3 equal the vertical height of heat exchanger 4? Or does applicant have some other explanation for the meaning of the phrase limitation "at the same height as one another, seen in the air flow direction"?

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 5, 6, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over FR 2 813 385 A.

See the comments on the European search report of September 17, 2003. They are incorporated here by reference by way of explanation. Apparently, they understood the vague limitation above better than this examiner. Perhaps something was lost in the translation.

Claims 1, 3, 4 and 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over WO 02 48516 A.

See the comments on the European search report of September 17, 2003. They are incorporated here by reference by way of explanation. Apparently, they understood the vague limitation above better than this examiner. Perhaps something was lost in the translation.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over FR 2 726 325 A.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over DE 199 28 193 A.
